| 1965 – 1980 | No ASC annual publications of any kind
  - Conference was to meet and have conversations among faculty about teaching and program issues
  - No intention to present conference papers |
| 1981   | Steve Goldblatt becomes 1st Editor and Publisher of the “The Construction Education Chronicle” the ASC Newsletter – Purdue University
  - ASC’s newsletter
  - Two issues per year to all ASC members – fall and spring |
| 1986   | Jerald Rounds, 1st ASC Proceedings Editor & President, Iowa State University
  - Published first hard-copy Proceedings
  - Engineering’s technical writer created proceedings
  - No paper review process
  - If author did not present, the paper was published as non-presented |
| 1987   | Dale Koehler, 2nd ASC Proceedings Editor, Purdue University
  - ASC Board reviewed abstracts of papers to present
  - Papers are considered incubation for external journal submission
  - $15 added to conference fees to pay for Proceedings |
| 1989   | Glenn Sears becomes 2nd Editor of the “The Construction Education Chronicle” – University of New Mexico
  - Published three times a year, fall, spring, summer
  - Published by Dale Koehler ASC Publisher
  - Dale Koehler publishes the ASC Annual Report
  - 1st hard-copy publication
  - All organizational reports and minutes |
| 1991   | 1st ASC Membership Directory published by Ken Williamson, University of Oklahoma
  - ASC Board approved – Pat Glon, ASC VP
  - First hard-copy Directory
  - All programs and faculty |
|        | 1st presentation of the Journal of Construction Education (JCE) concept to ASC Board by Ken Williamson and Bill McManus
  - The universities requirements of faculty have changed. In the near future faculty must publish journal articles to advance. Solution was creating a peer review system for Proceedings’ papers. This rigor was thought to satisfy the universities publication requirement
  - Rejected due to ASC Board feeling no one cared or needed a journal |
